

WARNER AT OUTS WITH CONGRESSMEN

Missouri's Republican Delegation at Washington Promises to Be Badly Split Up.

FEDERAL JOBS THE ISSUE.

Newly Elected Representatives Will Support Constituents for Fat Plums as Against Wishes of Senator.

With the Republican members of the lower house of Congress arrayed practically solid against Senator Warner, the Missouri delegation is starting for Washington in a very disintegrated frame of mind.

It seems that after Major Warner was elected to the Senate the question of Federal jobs throughout the State became the subject of prime importance to the Republican organization.

It is said to have been the understanding between the new Republican Congressmen, with the exception of Congressman Hartman, who is a friend of Senator Warner, who has been around since the time of the late Senator.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

But when the administration opened for the first time the Eastern and Western Federal jobs were up against a hard game opposition.

The Missouri delegation is now in a position where it is being pulled in two directions.

It is not too far from the truth to say that the Missouri delegation is now in a position where it is being pulled in two directions.
